

TILES: CREATING RELIEF AND PATTERN

A Group Show of Ceramic Tiles created by Su Casa Participants.
Join us for the culminating exhibition of the Su Casa Program at Center on the Square, with Seniors who participated in a community arts engagement program.

Thursday, June 16th 2016 Parlor 4:00 - 7:00 PM through July 29
Senior Center on the Square 20 Washington Square North, New York City

Since February of 2016 senior center members have learned techniques to build onto clay slabs and progressively work toward making individual tiles. They explored different processes to develop raised relief, and applied underglazes to add color and contrast. All stoneware pieces have been fired in a kiln off site.

Greenwich House's arts education, senior service and behavioral health programs provide services that include Senior cultural and wellness classes, the treatment of victims of child abuse, medical care for home-bound seniors, after-school arts programs for urban youth and counseling for adults struggling with drug and alcohol addiction.

About LMCC : SU-CASA is a collaboration among the New York City Council, the Department of Cultural Affairs, the Department for the Aging and the City's five local arts councils. This program is supported by public funds from the New York City Council in partnership with the Department of Cultural Affairs and the Department for the Aging. To learn more visit LMCC.net. Many thanks to Materials for the Arts, for donations of art supplies, paint and wood to help present the finished works.
